MONEY, BONDS AND STOCKS.

Dall Market in New York, Only One Stock Showing Any Particular Activity. NEW YORK, Oct. 17 .- Money on call was easy at 11 221 per cent., the last loan being made at 2 per cent, closing offered at 2 per

Prime mercantile paper, 47 26 per cent. Sterling exchange was dull but firm at $4 832 for sixty-day bills and $4.88 for demand. The sales of the day aggregated 179,935 shares, including the following: Missouri Pacific, 10,620 Norfolk & Western preferred, 4,411; Northern Pacific preferred, 6,210; New England, 10,510; Reading, 9,500; Richmond & West Point, 19,585; St. Paul, 11,000; Union Pacific, 45,930; Western Union, 70,352.

The stock market was again very dull to-day, with very little movement or feature, though one stock was active and strong and a few others were somewhat weak. Oregon Short-line was the leading strong feature of the market, the confidence of its friends in a dividend on the stock next year inducing good buying, which shot the stock up 5 per cent., to its highest point, to day. The belief is founded on the very handsome reports of earnings put out of late, while to-day there was talk of a revision of its arrangement with the Union Pacific, whereby it would receive a larger proportion of its earnings; but there was also a rumor that the company was in debt to the Union Pacific $1,000,000 for advances made, and that this was to be funded into a bond, and as there was also talk of action on the funding bill in December by the House of Representatives, the latter was very active and moved up a fraction. The weak spots in the list were Missouri Pacific, which was sold down on the unfavorable interpretation put upon the report of the company to the State of Kanyas, which, however, is generally considered worthless as far as giving any indication of the real status of the company.

Atchison was also weak again, on the report that the company was to issue a new ten-milliondollar mortgage, and this caused some selling of stocks by Boston again, in which Burlington was the greatest sufferer. There was some recovery in Atchison later, when the real nature of the new issue was comprehended, but San Francisco preferred and New England were also sold freely for Boston account. The Richmond & West Point stocks were the strong feature of the morning hours, but the advantage was about lost at the close. There was no news of a character to affect values, and commission houses did almost nothing, the bulk of the trading being the professionals. The opening prices were steady, but Union Pacific, Oregon Short-line and Richmond & West Point showed marked strength, and the rest of the list moved up in sympathy. The selling of Atchison and Missouri Pacific started the list on the down grade, however, shortly after 11 o'clock, and the gains of the early trading were about wiped out by noon, after which the market sank into the most intense dullness, while all motion disappeared from the list. The heavy tone reappeared in the last hour, and the close was rather heavy, generally at slight concessions from first prices. Most of the list shows fractional declines this evening, the only important advance being Oregon Short-line, which is 21 per cent, higher, while San Francisco preferred lost 15, and Missouri Pacific and Atchison, 11 per cent. each. The Reading issues were again the special feature of the railroad bond market, though solely on acfurnishing $377,000, the second $154,000, and the third $162,000 of the day's total of $1,660,000. The rest of the issues traded in were quiet and Government bonds were quiet and steady. State bonds were dull and featureless. Closregerally firm. The final changes were generally for slight fractions.

CHICAGO. Oct. 17.-Wheat was unsettled and prices very irregular. Operators are watching the course of the market closely and sudeavoring to form some idea on which to base operations, but the trade is at a disadvantage and unable to act with any degree of certainty. It is all guess-work, and for this reason trade is light and mostly local. The opening was firmer and about ic higher for May and i ole higher for December than the closing figures of yesterday, but ruled weak and declined irregniarly to for December and 1c for May, rellied to almost early outside prices, but closed very weak and ic lower for December and 1to lower for May than yesterday. The suddenly developed weakness shortly before the close was attributed to heavy selling by two or three local traders. A moderate trade was reported in corn and the feeling developed was much stronger. The market opened at about the closing prices of yesterday and sold off # 2 te, but it soon became apparent that there was very little corn for sale. Prices advanced 1; @1;0, reacted fc, again rallied 1;c, ruled easier and closed with October and November at ? Dle bigher, and December to and May to higher than yesterday. Orders for oats were light and local operators not disposed to engage actively in trade. The feeling was quite strong, in sympathy with a firmer corn market, and prices averaged about to better. There was some light demand for October, and there was little trading in December, but May was the principal delivery, and even here trade was quiet. Mess pork was moderately active early, leading packers and operators buying and selling freely. Trading was chiefly in January, though May came in for more attention. Opening sales were at 10c decline. Offerings were not large, and an advance of 20s followed. The appreciation brought out fair offerings, and a decline of 74c followed and the market closed steady. Lard was traded in moderately, and the prices were confined to a narrow range. Holders evinced more disposition to sell and prices declined slightly. There was a quieter and easier feeling for short ribs buyers evinced no particular disposition to take hold, and "longs" were not particularly anxious to sell. The leading futures ranged as follows:

INDIANAPOLIS MARKETS.

Trade Healthy in Its Character, with Few Fluctuations in Values. INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 17.

Inquiry in the several branches of business shows that the volume of trade is fully up to the usual October average, and in some departments it is running shead of last year. The dry goods men, for instance, state that their October business is looming up nicely, and a marked increase over that of the corresponding period of 1887 is noticeable. Grocers report their trade fully as good, if not a little better, than last year, with prices ruling strong. Sugars have again taken on a firmer tone, notwithstanding the fact that the distribution is not as large as a month ago. On reports from the producing countries, coffees have worked into a very strong position, but how long it can be maintained is a problem. Grocers admit that its price is too high to be healthy and long kept up. Canned goods have quieted down, and the range of prices is likely to be a little below that of last year. Lemons are dull, and with the light de-mand, prices range low. Oranges are still in light supply, the Louisiana stock being hardly ripe enough to meet with ready sale. The Jamaicas, however, are very fair fruit. Apples are in large supply, and the demand is improving as people are beginning to lay in their winter supplies. Potatoes, as well, are selling more freely at unchanged prices. Poultry is coming in liberally, and prices rule weak. A choice article in butter meets with ready sale at our best quotations. Eggs scarce and tending higher. The provision market is not in as strong a position as last week, but for the classes sold in this market prices rule steady. The flour market continues active, although prices have become somewhat unsettled owing to the weak wheat market.

There was a firmer tone to the local wheat market to-day, with lighter offerings. Millers are still out of the market, prices ruling too high to suit them. Corn was offich, and bidding on this cereal was tame. Oats are active, with

The Crab Apple.

Vick's Montly. While the crab apple has not received too general favor, owing, I suppose, to the impressions its aucestors created, it is yet slowly but surely gaining ground for its vigorous growth and long lived qualities, its handsome appearance, its surety of crops and greatly improved size and beauty of its fruit. It is one of the finest of small ornamental trees and quite hardy to the extreme North It will not only stand cold better, but is hardier in every way than the apple, and would commend itself to the fruit-grower where circumstances are not favorable to apples. While grown for cooking and for cider in the East, it is more largely planted in the Northwest, where it succeeds when all other kinds fail. There is no fruit which makes nicer preserves or jelly. The jelly is as clear as crystal and of a fine flavor. The tree is a great bearer, and will attempt too much unless severely pruned, which means insures a surprising change in the fruit in both size and quality. It never fails in bearing. Its flowers are large and handsome, and its fruit varies it color from cherry-red to yellow and striped and splashed with light red. The skin is thin and almost transparent, flesh firm and juicy, and flavor very pleasant. For cidermaking it is unsurpassed, and this alone would seem to render it popular. Of varieties, Hyslop, deep crimson, large and hardy: Transcendent, yellow, striped with red; Vau Wyck, large, color light red, very sweet and tender; Whitney's No. 20, beautiful, early and very large, a really good table apple and one of the best varieties; Hudson River crab and others are becoming known for their excellent qualities. Every fruit-grower, however limited, should plant a few trees for use and ornament.

Danger of Barb Fences. Country Gentlemen.

Notwithstanding the several simple means for preventing injury to horses and other farm animals from barb-wire fences, we are repeatedly hearing of severe injuries inflicted by these fences. In all cases, so far as we have heard, the injury has come from the fences made wholly of the barb wires. Where ditches and banks have been made at the bottom of the fence, or a rip-rap wall of cobble-stones a foot or two high has been placed beneath the wires, in the manner we have repeatedly recommended, not a single accident has occurred within our knowledge.

Some persons have strongly advocated the prohibition, by law, of all barb-wire fences next to neighbors or along highways, to prevent the many accidents which frequently occur, but no general law of this kind can be passed so long as farmers find these fences so much cheaper, more efficient and more durable than any other farm fonce that can be constructed. It would be equally impossible to prohibit the running of railway trains on account of the disasters which often occur from them. All that is necessary is to adopt the simple and cheap remedies recom-mended, among which the earth bank and double ditch is capable of nearly universal application. and which has some advantages in cheapness of construction in addition to the protection it affords.

Deserving of Confidence-There is no article which so richly deserves the entire confidence of the community as Brown's Bronchial Troches. Those suffering from asthmatic and bronchial diseases, coughs and colds, should try them. Price 25 cents.

When Beby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria, When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.
